

Corporate Team Building

Have You Got the Balls to go down to the woods and shoot the BOSS to bits!

It's not every day that your boss arrives in the office and declares "that it will be okay to shoot at your co-workers" all in the name of a kick-ass team building exercise!

After all, what could be more fun than blowing off some steam after a busy season - Not much we're willing to wager!

The Boss will receive complimentary paintball ammunition to help fend off any management challenges on the day!

Paintballing is an extremely popular activity and is a perfect way to challenge your staff and motivate your team to work together.

Don't worry if you can't make it as we will email through photographs of GREAT BOSS HUNT for placement on your staff room brag board!!

Don't miss the most important day at the office!
